Jan. 30. Restitution to the abbot and convent of St. Werburgh's, Chester, of the Westminister. issues, during its late voidance through the death of Simon, late abbot, to which they are entitled, as appears by the following evidence, (1) by inspection of the charters made to them by Hugh, Richard, Ranulph and Ranulph sometime earls of Chester and the king's confirmation thereof, that in whatever they granted to the said abbey they reserved to themselves only prayers for the souls of King William and themselves; (2) by scrutiny of the rolls of the Exchequer at Westminister and of the Exchequer at Chester, and by inquisitions made by Reginald de Grey, justice of Chester, and brother Robert de Valle Regali, escheator of Chester, that Henry III., after the said county came to his hands, took nothing from the said abbey to his own use during voidance, and had no other custody of it except that the justice of Chester for the time being put a serjeant there, who had under him one keeper in the cellar and another at the gate of the abbey, who kept the abbey's goods and issues safe and without distraint (absque distraccione), and received their expenses only out of the issues of the abbey, and newly created abbots gave no pension to any king's clerk. Upon the death of the said Simon, the king believing the custody of this abbey to be the same as that of other abbeyes of the Crown, took the abbey and its issues into his hands and requested Thomas the present abbot at his creation to give a pension to one of the king's clerks. The king restores the issues, and his will is that the abbey enjoy its liberties henceforward, so that hereafter in times of voidance, the king claim nothing of its goods or issues, but a serjeant with two keepers under him, as in the time of Henry III., keep the abbey as above.

Mandate to the justices, bailiffs and others of Ireland not to permit to be molested in any way, for three years, Francis Malissard, Gerard Chimbardi and their fellows, merchants of the society of the Ricardi of Lucca, their men, things and merchandise, as it appears by their complaint that although the king had taken them under his protection, twelve sworn men, in divers counties of Ireland, appointed to denounce delinquents to the king's bailiffs and ministers, denounce them, though they have committed no delinquencies, in order that money may be extorted from them, and that divers persons of those parts exact toll, murages and other customs from them which they have not used to pay.

Simple protection, until Michaelmas, for John de Suthwell going to the Isle of Man on the king's service.

Process on a petition of Eric, king of Norway, before Edward I., superior lord of Scotland, and his council presented by Hugucio the priest (plebanum) of Châtillon (de Castellione), Master Peter Algoti, Master Bernard Lodowici, William de Thorngham, knight, and Arvo, canon of Bergen, attorneys of the said Eric, before the king and his council of both realms, England and Scotland, at Berewik-on-Tweed, at his parliament there on the morrow of Holy Trinity 1292, showing that whereas Alexander, last king of Scotland, was bound to the said Eric in 14,000 marks sterling for the marriage of his daughter Margaret betrothed to him, whereof he paid 7,000 marks during his lifetime, and for the rest assigned to the said Eric, Margaret his wife and their heirs, the rents of the following lands:—Roschimay in the diocese of Moray, in the bailiwick of Banef, Batheluy in the shrievalty of Aberdeen, Badked and Radchen in the shrievalty of Edinburgh to wit, 700 marks a year, and any deficiency to be raised from the lands of Minnemorth; and that since the death of the said Alexander the said payments have been detained for three years by the bishops of St. Andrews and Glasgow and the other keepers of the realm of Scotland; and praying for redress.

The said attorneys being interrogated as to their proofs by the king and his council, supplicate the king, as superior lord of the realm of Scotland, to cause himself to be certified touching the premises by the bishops, earls and barons, nobles and magnates, and the rest of the council then being of the late Alexander king of Scotland, and to do justice in the matter. Whereupon the king commanded the said persons to let him know the truth herein. And they, assembled in presence of the king of England, said upon their oaths that all the said tenements, except the lands and tenements of Minnemorth, were assigned as alleged, and the said Eric was in seisin thereof until three years ago, since which time the said keepers have detained the same. And because this is found to be the case by the verdict of the said councillors before our lord the king the superior lord of Scotland, and because the said king of Norway can claim nothing of the said 700 marks yearly, except for the term of his life, by our lord the king the superior lord of Scotland and his council of both realms, it is adjudged that the said king of Norway recover seisin of the said rent from the said lands, except the lands of Minnemorth, and the arrears thereof for the past three years, provided that the said lands, except the lands of Minnemorth, are handed over to some good men of the realm of Scotland, elected thereto by the said Eric, and to no others, who shall be answerable to him yearly for life for the value of the same. And as to the lands of Minnemorth, as he shows no writing or other evidence in support of his petition, he takes nothing for the present, saving his action, if he has any or can show any other evidence in case the said rents do not suffice for such deficiency to be made up out of the lands of Minnemorth.

It appears by the inspection of a public instrument drawn up by Paschal de Sauntou, notary public of Bayonne, containing the evidence of Peter de Francia, William Bernardi de Lacu and Peter Dursou, citizens of Bayonne, that Sanctius, king of Castile, failed to do justice to the said Gerald, who although he had letters of security from the said king and paid the tithes, pedages and customs as well as other dues on his goods in the said king's land, was plundered and taken, and has been long imprisoned in spite of the remonstrances made to the said king by the seneschal of Gascony, the mayor and jurats of Bayonne. Hereupon Stephen de Penecestre, constable of the castle of Dover, in execution of letters patent in that behalf, caused Nicholas Petri, Lupus Lupi, Andrew Garcia and their fellows, merchants of Castile, their goods and merchandise in the ship St. Nicholas, with the ship itself, to be arrested at Sandwich at the suit of William de Francia, brother and attorney of the said Gerald. It also appears by letters patent of the king of Castile that the goods whereof the said Gerald was despoiled with his ransom for release from prison were taxed at the value of 437 marks 6*s.* 8*d.*, and by oath of the said William before the king, and trustworthy evidence that the damages sustained by the said Gerald in his spoliation and imprisonment are estimated at 100*l.* Each of those to whom this mandate is addressed shall inform the king of the names of the merchants from whose goods the said sum is taken in their bailiwick, and the amount so taken.
