The court found that John le Neyr gave the said Alan 36l. to purchase lead, wool and other things for him at Stockyth. Alan bought 16 cart-loads of lead, less two ways and two stones, which he delivered to Hugh servant of John le Neyr, at Stockyth, and bought a certain part of lead for which he had formerly paid the said John, but after buying lead, wool and other merchandise to the use of the said John, and having given earnest-money, the said John le Neyr failed to advance the money on the days appointed, whereupon the said Alan returned to Stockyth and sold the lead which he had delivered for safe custody to the said Nicholas, servant of John Kays[er]. The judgment of the court was that as the said lead sold to the said Nicholas had been bought with the money of John le Neyr, the said John le Neyr should recover the value of the said 16 cart-loads of lead, less two ways and two stone, and meanwhile the body of the said Alan should be kept in safe custody, and that the said John le Keys[er] and Nicholas should retain the lead which they had lawfully purchased and retire quit, and the said John le Neyr, for his false plaint against John le Keys[er] and Nicholas, be in mercy as usual in such cases.

time earls of Chester and the king's confirmation thereof, that in whatever they granted to the said abbey they reserved to themselves only prayers for the souls of King William and themselves; (2) by scrutiny of the rolls of the Exchequer at Westminster and of the Exchequer at Chester, and by inquisitions made by Reginald de Grey, justice of Chester, and brother Robert de Valle Regali, escheator of Chester, that Henry III., after the said county came to his hands, took nothing from the said abbey to his own use during voidance, and had no other custody of it except that the justice of Chester for the time being put a serjeant there, who had under him one keeper in the cellar and another at the gate of the abbey, who kept the abbey's goods and issues safe and without distrain (absque distraccione), and received their expenses only out of the issues of the abbey, and newly created abbots gave

the said payments have been detained for three years by the bishops of St. Andrews and Glasgow and the other keepers of the realm of Scotland; and praying for redress.

The said attorneys being interrogated as to their proofs by the king and his council, supplicate the king, as superior lord of the realm of Scotland, to cause himself to be certified touching the premises by the bishops, earls and barons, nobles and magnates, and the rest of the council then being of the late Alexander king of Scotland, and to do justice in the matter. Whereupon the king commanded the said persons to let him know the truth herein. It appears by the inspection of a public instrument drawn up by Paschal de Saunton, notary public of Bayonne, containing the evidence of Peter de Francia, William Bernardi de Lacu and Peter Dursou, citizens of Bayonne, that Sanctius, king of Castile, failed to do justice to the said Gerald, who although he had letters of security from the said king and paid the tithes, pedages and customs as well as other dues on his goods in the said king’s land, was plundered and taken, and has been long imprisoned in spite of the remonstrances made to the said king by the seneschal of Gascony, the mayor and jurats of Bayonne. Hereupon Stephen de Peneceatre, constable of the castle of Dover, in execution of letters patent in that behalf, caused Nicholas Petri, Lupus Lupi, Andrew Garcia and their fellows, merchants of Castile, their goods and merchandise in the ship St. Nicholas, with the ship itself, to be arrested at Sandwich at the suit of William de Francia, brother and attorney of the said Gerald. The said arrested persons brought a complaint before the king, and a concord was made that the said William should take 100 marks of their goods and their ship in part satisfaction of the goods stolen from, and the damages sustained by the said Gerald, and that any other ship and goods of theirs coming to England should be quit in this behalf. It also appears by letters patent of the king of Castile that the goods whereof the said Gerald was despoiled with his ransom for release from prison were taxed at the value of 437 marks 6s. 8d., and by oath of the said William before the king, and trustworthy evidence that the damages sustained by the said Gerald in his spoliation and imprisonment are estimated at 100l. Each of those to whom this mandate is addressed shall inform the king of the names of the merchants from whose goods the said sum is taken in their bailiwick, and the amount so taken.

The king, now understanding that Thomas son of the said William has since obtained, at the procurement of the enemies of the said William, a writ for an appeal touching the same death before the said justices at the first assize, in order that the said William might be taken and imprisoned and prevented from suing pleadings begun by him in the Bench, issues the present commission; and has commanded the said justices of the Bench to send the record of the cause tried before them; and the sheriff of York to cause the appeal of the said Thomas, with the original writ, to come before the first-mentioned justices.
